VELVET
FOUNDATION

> About Us > Why We're Doing This > Leadership

The Museum is dedicated to sharing the heritage of LGBT people, a story that unites millions of individuals but is rarely represented in mainstream museums.

Developed and sustained by the Velvet Foundation, a 501c3 non-profit organization, the Museum is located in the District of Columbia, where the LGBT story can most effectively reach a national and international audience.

ANALYTICS SETUP

We work with you to identify the metrics that matter to your business, with an eye to using this data to segment and target customers. Identifying and tracking key metrics will enable you to fine-tune the difference between your 'customers' and your 'key audience'.

Based in Boston, a city of makers

We are a growing collective of tools & expertise that helps organizations shape the future without platform bias. Digital is bigger than a screen and we build things that help people look up.

One Mighty Roar is a product company with a software-first approach to problems. We build tools that bridge difficult gaps. Our current focus is the digital and physical divide in the so-called "Internet of Things".

We get asked at least twice a week what "building experiences" means. It's a question we love answering, because it's the best way to understand how we operate. Our team rarely makes things you're meant to use alone. To us an experience is something you share with the people around you, both in the moment and in the story to friends afterwards. Some of our earliest successes were community driven, and our work today reflects what we've learned along the way.

We aren't for everyone, but we make sure our partner's bravery builds big things... and also a smile or two. Should we meet you next?

Formulations Research & Development

At R&D Research we pride ourselves on our ability to create innovative and exacting solutions that are tailored to customer's ever evolving requirements. Our team of scientists have an international reputation for excellence with a wealth of experience in the field of pesticide formulations development enabling a targeted and successful approach to problem solving. Given the wide diversity of problems we are asked to solve we need to have an acute awareness of the various issues involved and the demands of the market and the end user.

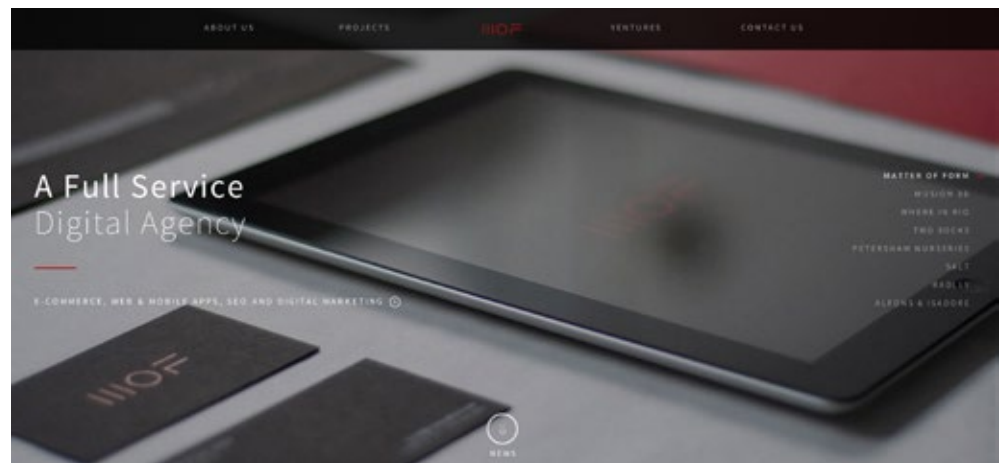

Underpinning our research is a commitment to minimise environmental impact and operator exposure through enhanced efficacy, greater stability and the use where possible of natural sustainable inert ingredients.

Our team of scientists thrive on new challenges and would welcome the opportunity to discuss with you and your organisation any potential areas for collaboration.

Partnering

A partnership with HTH Worldwide is more than licensing our tools. You'll also have access to expert technical and medical knowledge, decades of global healthcare experience, and a proven strategy that increases customer loyalty and retention.
